Assignment Notebooks

These will be given to students on the first day of school. It is expected that students record something in the space provided for each class. Even if there is not any homework, students should write “no homework.” Doing this creates a habit for success. If a student does not have a homework assignment in class on the due date, teachers will circle that assignment and sign the space to indicate a missing assignment. This is meant to remind students to pass it in the next day and to inform parents that there is work missing. Please, parents, check your student’s assignment book to make sure that they are using it and are passing in work.

Aspen

Teachers will post homework assignments for parents to check and students to double check what should have been recorded in assignment notebooks. This is also a place for teachers to post information about assignments as well as attach links to documents, videos, or other websites. Teachers record graded assignments in Aspen. A zero indicates that your student did not turn in an assignment, even after extra time and reminders had been given. A blank means that the teacher has not yet graded this assignment.

ext. 3277

Mrs. Salvatore will be instructing students on how to login to the computers and provide each student a sheet that has all the login information that they will need for the year. The students will be instructed to keep these in a safe and specific spot in their binders.

Dismissals

If your student is being dismissed before the end of the school day, please send in a note which your student must give to his or her A period teacher.
